Caring Info, a program of the National Hospice and Palliative Care Organization (NHPCO), is a national consumer engagement initiative to improve care at the end of life.

It's About How You LIVE

It's About How You LIVE is a national community engagement campaign encouraging individuals to make informed decisions about end-of-life care and services. The campaign encourages people to:

- Learn about options for end-of-life services and care
- Implement plans to ensure wishes are honored
- Voice decisions to family, friends and healthcare providers
- Engage in personal or community efforts to improve end-of-life care

Note: The following is not a substitute for legal advice. While Caring Info updates the following information and form to keep them up-to-date, changes in the underlying law can affect how the form will operate in the event you lose the ability to make decisions for yourself. If you have any questions about how the form will help ensure your wishes are carried out, or if your wishes do not seem to fit with the form, you may wish to talk to your health care provider or an attorney with experience in drafting advance directives. If you have other questions regarding these documents, we recommend contacting your state attorney general's office.

Using these Materials

BEFORE YOU BEGIN

1. Check to be sure that you have the materials for each state in which you may receive healthcare.
2. These materials include:
 - Instructions for preparing your advance directive, please read all the instructions.
 - Your state-specific advance directive forms, which are the pages with the gray instruction bar on the left side.

ACTION STEPS

1. You may want to photocopy or print a second set of these forms before you start so you will have a clean copy if you need to start over.
2. When you begin to fill out the forms, refer to the gray instruction bars — they will guide you through the process.
3. Talk with your family, friends, and physicians about your advance directive. Be sure the person you appoint to make decisions on your behalf understands your wishes.
4. Once the form is completed and signed, photocopy the form and give it to the person you have appointed to make decisions on your behalf, your family, friends, health care providers and/or faith leaders so that the form is available in the event of an emergency.
5. You may also want to store a copy of your Advance Directive in MyDirectives, a secure, web-based system that allows you to document and store your Advance Directive in a secure database. You may share your Advance Directive electronically with your health care agent, family members, and providers. You can find out more about this resource at <http://www.mydirectives.com>.

INTRODUCTION TO YOUR MARYLAND ADVANCE DIRECTIVE

This packet contains two legal documents, the Maryland Advance Directive that protects your right to refuse medical treatment you do not want or to request treatment you do want in the event you lose the ability to make decisions yourself, and the Maryland "After My Death," form, a document that allows you to record your decisions regarding organ donation and the final disposition of your remains.

The Maryland Advance Directive is divided into three parts. You may fill out Part I, Part II, or both, depending on your advance planning needs. You must complete Part III.

Part 1, Selection of Health Care Agent, lets you name someone (an agent) to make decisions about your health care. This part becomes effective either immediately, or when your doctor determines that you can no longer make or communicate your health care decisions, depending on how you fill out the form.

Part II includes your Treatment Preferences. This is your state's living will. It lets you state your wishes about health care in the event that you can no longer speak for yourself. Part II has specific choices laid out for you in the event you have a terminal condition, are in a persistent vegetative state (permanent unconsciousness), or develop an end-stage condition. Alternatively, you can provide your own instructions. In addition, the form allows you to choose whether your agent will have flexibility in implementing your decisions or carry out your instructions exactly as you set them out.

Part II becomes effective when your doctor determines that you can no longer make or communicate your health care decisions.

Part III contains the signature and witnessing provisions so that your document will be effective.

Following the Maryland Advance Directive is a form, called "After My Death," which allows you to record your organ donation and final remains disposition preferences. You may share your Advance Directive electronically with your health care agent, family members, and providers by using the free, secure, web-based system at <http://www.mydirectives.com/>

The Maryland Advance Directive form does not expressly address mental illness. If you would like to make advance care plans regarding mental illness, you should talk to your physician and an attorney about a directive tailored to your needs. The Maryland Department of Mental Health and Hygiene provides an advance directive focused on mental-health issues on its webpage at:

http://bha.dhmh.maryland.gov/Documents/Advance%20Directive%20for%20Mental%20Health%20Treatment%202016%20\(2\).docx.docx).

Note: This document will be legally binding only if the person completing it is either: (1) 18 years of age or older, or (2) if under the age of 18, is married or is the parent of a child.

INSTRUCTIONS COMPLETING YOUR MARYLAND ADVANCE DIRECTIVE

How do I make my Maryland Advance Directive legal?

You must sign and date your advance directive in the presence of two witnesses, who must also sign and date the document.

Your agent may not be a witness. In addition, at least one of your witnesses must be someone who will not knowingly inherit anything from your estate or otherwise knowingly benefit from your death.

Whom should I appoint as my agent?

Your agent is the person you appoint to make decisions about your health care if you become unable to make those decisions yourself. Your agent may be a family member or a close friend whom you trust to make serious decisions. The person you name as your agent should clearly understand your wishes and be willing to accept the responsibility of making health care decisions for you.

You can appoint a second person as your alternate agent. The alternate will step in if the first person you name as an agent is unable, unwilling, or unavailable to act for you.

You cannot appoint as your agent:

- An owner, operator or employee of your treating health care facility
- The spouse, parent, child, or sibling of any of the above health care facility-affiliated individuals
- Someone that you have a protective order against
- Someone you are currently separated from or divorcing

However, you may appoint a person who would otherwise be barred from being your agent if that person is your guardian, spouse, domestic partner, adult child, parent, sibling, or other close relative or close friend who could be appointed as your surrogate in the event you do not appoint an agent.

Should I add personal instructions to my Appointment of Health Care Agent?

One of the strongest reasons for naming an agent is to have someone who can respond flexibly as your health care situation changes and deal with situations that you did not foresee. If you add instructions to this document it may help your agent carry out your wishes, but be careful that you do not unintentionally restrict your agent's power to act in your best interest. In any event, be sure to talk with your agent about your future medical care and describe what you consider to be an acceptable "quality of life."

What if I change my mind?

If you decide to cancel your Maryland Advance Directive, you may do so at any time by:

- issuing a signed and dated written or electronic revocation,
- destroying or defacing your document,
- orally informing your doctor of your revocation, or
- executing another Maryland Advance Directive.

You should notify your agent, physician, and anyone who has a photocopy of your advance directive that you have revoked it.

You may expressly waive your right to cancel your Maryland Advance Directive, including the appointment of an agent, during a period in which you have been certified incapable of making an informed decision.

How do I make my “After My Death” form legal?

You must sign and date your “After My Death” form in the presence of two witnesses, who must also sign and date the document.

Using this advance directive form to do health care planning is completely optional. Other forms are also valid in Maryland. No matter what form you use, talk to your family and others close to you about your wishes.

This form has two parts to state your wishes, and a third part for needed signatures. Part I of this form lets you answer this question: If you cannot (or do not want to) make your own health care decisions, who do you want to make them for you? The person you pick is called your health care agent. Make sure you talk to your health care agent (and any back-up agents) about this important role. Part II lets you write your preferences about efforts to extend your life in three situations: terminal condition, persistent vegetative state, and end-stage condition. In addition to your health care planning decisions, you can choose to become an organ donor after your death by filling out the form for that too.

You can fill out Parts I and II of this form, or only Part I, or only Part II. Use the form to reflect your wishes, then sign in front of two witnesses (Part III). If your wishes change, make a new advance directive.

Make sure you give a copy of the completed form to your health care agent, your doctor, and others who might need it. Keep a copy at home in a place where someone can get it if needed. Review what you have written periodically.

I also want my agent to:

2. Once my agent has full power to act under this document, my agent may request, receive, and review any information, oral or written, regarding my physical or mental health, including, but not limited to, medical and hospital records and other protected health information, and consent to disclosure of this information.

H. Effectiveness of This Part

(Read both of these statements carefully. Then, initial one only.)

My agent's power is in effect:

_____ 1. Immediately after I sign this document, subject to my right to make any decision about my health care if I want and am able to.

((or))

_____ 2. Whenever I am not able to make informed decisions about my health care, either because the doctor in charge of my care (attending physician) decides that I have lost this ability temporarily, or my attending physician and a consulting doctor agree that I have lost this ability permanently.

I. Waiver of Right to Revoke Appointment of Agent

(Read this section carefully. Then, initial only if you wish to waive your right to revoke the appointment of your agent upon certification of incapacity.)

In the case that I am unconscious or unable to communicate by any means, the certification of a second physician is not required.

If the only thing you want to do is select a health care agent, skip Part II. Go to Part III to sign and have the advance directive witnessed. If you also want to write your treatment preferences, use Part II. Also consider becoming an organ donor, using the separate "After my Death" form for that.

You Have Filled Out Your Health Care Directive, Now What?

1. Your Maryland Advance Directive and "After my Death" form are important legal documents. Keep the original signed documents in a secure but accessible place. Do not put the original documents in a safe deposit box or any other security box that would keep others from having access to them.
2. Give photocopies of the signed originals to your agent and alternate agent, doctor(s), family, close friends, clergy, and anyone else who might become involved in your healthcare. If you enter a nursing home or hospital, have photocopies of your documents placed in your medical records.
3. Be sure to talk to your agent(s), doctor(s), clergy, family, and friends about your wishes concerning medical treatment. Discuss your wishes with them often, particularly if your medical condition changes.
4. You may also want to save a copy of your form in an online medical records management service that allows you to share your medical documents with your physicians, family, and others who you want to take an active role in your advance care planning.
5. If you want to make changes to your documents after they have been signed and witnessed, you must complete a new document.
6. Remember, you can always revoke your Maryland documents.
7. Be aware that your Maryland documents will not be effective in the event of a medical emergency. Ambulance and hospital emergency department personnel are required to provide cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) unless they are given a separate directive that states otherwise. These directives, called "emergency medical services/do not resuscitate orders" or "EMS/DNR orders," are designed for people whose poor health gives them little chance of benefiting from CPR. These directives instruct ambulance and hospital emergency personnel not to attempt CPR if your heart or breathing should stop.

Currently not all states have laws authorizing these orders. We suggest you speak to your physician if you are interested in obtaining one. Caring Info does not distribute these forms. To get information about a physician's order form that allows emergency medical personnel to provide comfort care instead of aggressive interventions, call the Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical Services Systems at (410) 706-4367. You can also download the Maryland EMS/DNR Order at: <http://www.miemss.org>
