Using these Materials

BEFORE YOU BEGIN

1. Check to be sure that you have the materials for each state in which you may receive healthcare.
2. These materials include:
 - Instructions for preparing your advance directive, please read all the instructions.
 - Your state-specific advance directive forms, which are the pages with the gray instruction bar on the left side.

ACTION STEPS

3. You may want to photocopy these forms before you start so you will have a clean copy if you need to start over.
4. When you begin to fill out the forms, refer to the gray instruction bars - they will guide you through the process.
5. Talk with your family, friends, and physicians about your advance directive. Be sure the person you appoint to make decisions on your behalf understands your wishes.
6. Once the form is completed and signed, photocopy the form and give it to the person you have appointed to make decisions on your behalf, your family, friends, healthcare providers and/or faith leaders so that the form is available in the event of an emergency.

INTRODUCTION TO YOUR OREGON ADVANCE DIRECTIVE

This packet contains a legal document, the Oregon Advance Directive, that protects your right to refuse medical treatment you do not want, or to request treatment you do want, in the event you lose the ability to make decisions yourself.

Part A of your Oregon Advance Directive contains important information that you should read before completing your document.

Part B of your Oregon Advance Directive is the Appointment of Healthcare Representative. This section lets you name someone to make decisions about your medical care—including decisions about life support—if you can no longer speak for yourself. The Appointment of Healthcare Representative is especially useful because it appoints someone to speak for you any time you are unable to make your own medical decisions, not only at the end of life.

Part C of your Oregon Advance Directive is for Healthcare Instructions. This section functions as a living will. It lets you state your wishes about medical care in the event that you are in a terminal condition, are permanently unconscious, or have an advanced progressive illness and can no longer make your own medical decisions. (One other physician must agree with your attending physician's opinion of your medical condition.)

Note: This document will be legally binding only if the person completing it is a competent adult (at least 18 years old), an emancipated minor, or is married.

INTRODUCTION TO YOUR OREGON ADVANCE DIRECTIVE (CONTINUED)

How do I make my Oregon Advance Directive legal?

The law requires that you sign your document, or direct another to sign it, in the presence of two witnesses, neither of whom may be your attending physician or your healthcare representative or alternate. Your witnesses must also sign the document to show that they personally know you or have been provided with proof of your identity, that you signed or acknowledged your signature in their presence, that you appear to be of sound mind and free of duress, fraud or undue influence, and that they are neither your attending physician nor your healthcare representative or alternate.

At least one of your witnesses cannot be:

- related to you (by blood, marriage or adoption),
- entitled to any portion of your estate under any will or by operation of law, or
- an owner, operator or employee of your treating healthcare facility.

If you are a patient in a long-term care facility, one of your witnesses must be a person designated by your facility and qualified under the rules of the Department of Human Resources.

Note: You do not need to notarize your Oregon Advance Directive.

What if I change my mind?

You can revoke your Oregon Advance Directive at any time and in any manner by which you are able to communicate your intent to revoke your document. Your revocation becomes effective once you notify your doctor or healthcare provider or your healthcare representative. If you notify your healthcare representative, he or she must promptly inform your doctor or healthcare provider of your revocation if you are unable to do so. Once your doctor or healthcare provider is notified of your revocation, he or she must make it part of your medical record.

Your Oregon Advance Directive will automatically be revoked if you execute a new Oregon Advance Directive, unless you have specified otherwise in your document.

COMPLETING PART B: APPOINTMENT OF HEALTHCARE REPRESENTATIVE

Whom should I appoint as my healthcare representative?

Your healthcare representative is the person you appoint to make decisions about your medical care if you become unable to make those decisions yourself. Your representative can be a family member or a close friend whom you trust to make serious decisions. The person you name as your representative should clearly understand your wishes and be willing to accept the responsibility of making medical decisions for you. (A healthcare representative may also be called an “agent,” “proxy” or “attorney-in-fact.”)

Unless he or she is related to you by blood, marriage or adoption, the person you appoint as your healthcare representative cannot be:

- your attending physician or an employee of your attending physician, or
- an owner, operator or employee of a healthcare facility in which you are a patient or resident, unless you appointed him or her as your representative before your admission to the facility.

You can appoint a second person as your alternate healthcare representative. The alternate will step in if the first person you name as representative is unable, unwilling or unavailable to act for you.

Should I add personal instructions to Part B of my Oregon Advance Directive?

If you want your healthcare representative to have the power to make decisions about life-sustaining treatment and artificial nutrition and hydration on your behalf, you must initial the statements under numbers 2 and 3 in Part B of your Oregon Advance Directive. If you do not initial these statements, your representative will be unable to make decisions on your behalf concerning life-sustaining treatment and artificial nutrition and hydration.

One of the strongest reasons for naming a healthcare representative is to have someone who can respond flexibly as your medical situation changes and deal with situations that you did not foresee. If you add instructions here, you might unintentionally restrict your representative’s power to act in your best interest.

Talk with your representative about your future medical care and describe what you consider to be an acceptable “quality of life.” If you want to record your wishes about specific treatments or conditions, you should use part C of your Oregon Advance Directive (the living will section).

What other important facts should I know?

- Part B of your Advance Directive (Appointment of Healthcare Representative) will not be valid unless your healthcare representative and alternate sign and date the acceptance statement on page 7 of your document.
- If you appoint your spouse as your healthcare representative, the appointment is automatically revoked if you petition for divorce or annulment, unless you reaffirm your representative's appointment at that time.
- Your healthcare representative is not authorized to make healthcare decisions with respect to any of the following: (1) admission or retention in a mental healthcare facility; (2) convulsive treatment; (3) Psychosurgery; (4) sterilization; (5) abortion; or (6) withholding or withdrawing life-sustaining procedures unless given authority to do so.

COMPLETING PART C: HEALTHCARE INSTRUCTIONS

Can I add personal instructions to Part C of my Oregon Advance Directive?

Yes. Part C has been designed to allow you to personalize your Oregon Advance Directive. Sections 1 to 5 present specific situations in which decisions about life-sustaining treatment and artificial nutrition and hydration may need to be made. You should initial the statements that reflect your wishes. Unless you clearly outline the situations in which you would not want to receive artificial nutrition and hydration or life-sustaining treatment, your doctor may not be able to withhold or withdraw artificial feeding or life-sustaining treatment from you.

In addition, you can add personal instructions in section 6 of Part C, called "Additional Conditions or Instructions."

If you have appointed a healthcare representative under Part B of your Advance Directive, it is a good idea to write a statement such as, "Any questions about how to interpret or when to apply my Advance Directive are to be decided by my agent."

INSTRUCTIONS

PART A: IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT THIS ADVANCE DIRECTIVE

This is an important legal document. It can control critical decisions about your health care. Before signing, consider these important facts:

Facts About Part B (Appointing a Health Care Representative)

You have the right to name a person to direct your health care when you cannot do so. This person is called your "health care representative." You can do this by using Part B of this form. Your representative must accept on Part E of this form.

You can write in this document any restrictions you want on how your representative will make decisions for you. Your representative must follow your desires as stated in this document or otherwise made known. If your desires are unknown, your representative must try to act in your best interest. Your representative can resign at any time.

Facts About Part C (Giving Health Care Instructions)

You also have the right to give instructions for health care providers to follow if you become unable to direct your care. You can do this by using Part C of this form.

Facts About Completing This Form

This form is valid only if you sign it voluntarily and when you are of sound mind. If you do not want an advance directive, you do not have to sign this form.

Unless you have limited the duration of this advance directive, it will not expire. If you have set an expiration date, and you become unable to direct your health care before that date, this advance directive will not expire until you are able to make those decisions again.

You may revoke this document at any time. To do so, notify your representative and your health care provider of the revocation.

Despite this document, you have the right to decide your own health care as long as you are able to do so. If there is anything in this document that you do not understand, ask a lawyer to explain it to you.

You may sign PART B, PART C, or both parts. You may cross out words that don't express your wishes. Witnesses must sign PART D.

YOU HAVE FILLED OUT YOUR ADVANCE DIRECTIVE, NOW WHAT?

1. Your Oregon Advance Directive is an important legal document. Keep the original signed document in a secure but accessible place. Do not put the original document in a safe deposit box or any other security box that would keep others from having access to it.
2. Give photocopies of the signed original to your healthcare representative and alternate, doctor(s), family, close friends, clergy and anyone else who might become involved in your healthcare. If you enter a nursing home or hospital, have photocopies of your document placed in your medical records.
3. Be sure to talk to your healthcare representative and alternate, doctor(s), clergy, and family and friends about your wishes concerning medical treatment. Discuss your wishes with them often, particularly if your medical condition changes.
4. If you want to make changes to your document after it has been signed and witnessed, you must complete a new document.
5. Remember, you can always revoke your Oregon document.
6. Be aware that your Oregon document will not be effective in the event of a medical emergency. Ambulance personnel are required to provide cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) unless they are given a separate order that states otherwise. These orders, commonly called "non-hospital do-not-resuscitate orders," are designed for people whose poor health gives them little chance of benefiting from CPR. These orders must be signed by your physician and instruct ambulance personnel not to attempt CPR if your heart or breathing should stop.

Currently not all states have laws authorizing non-hospital do-not-resuscitate orders. We suggest you speak to your physician for more information. Caring Connections does not distribute these forms.
